TOPICS

Chemistry, Bioeconomy, Digitization, Engineering, Nanotechnology, Analytics, Polymers, New Materials, Big Data, Circular Economy, Biorenewables, etc.

"The ECP is vibrant – in all dimensions – only forward looking and is all about innovation, not just technologies, but also business models, enabling functions and interactions."

Rob van der Meij, Investment Manager, Capricorn Venture Partners, Leuven, Belgium

"European Chemistry Partnering is a milestone for our industry in Europe."

Dr. Michael Brandkamp, General Manager, High-Tech Gründerfonds Management GmbH, Bonn, Germany

"I am really impressed how many experts I could meet during one evening and one working day."

Dr. Alexander Litvinov, Senior expert Corporate R&D, SIBUR LLC, Moscow, Russia

"The ECP allowed our project to gain awareness in the pitching session and to initiate collaborations with decision makers in one-on-one meetings."

Dr. Simon Widmaier, CEO, Aquarray GmbH, Egenstein-Leopoldshafen, Germany

"Everybody I talked to was open to exchange experience and to find business opportunities. Great mixture of young innovative and experienced attendees makes partnering fun."

Gordana Hofman-Jovic, Head of Process Engineering, InfraserV Knapsack

"I like the focus on the industry. ECP gave me the opportunity to meet with people sharing the same interests and working in the same fields. I felt at home."

Daniela Ribezzo, GFBiochemicals Europe BV, Manager BD, Geleen, The Netherlands

"Anyone who calls chemistry old economy should visit ECP."

Dr. Thomas Renner, VP Consortium Corporate R&D, Wacker Chemie AG, Munich, Germany
